

Bruce Martin joined Angelo, Gordon in 1999 to focus on investments in the leveraged loan market. Bruce is co-head of the firm's leveraged loan business. Since 1993, Bruce has analyzed high yield investments ranging from par loans to distressed debt. He has also served as a board member on a portfolio company. Prior to joining the firm, Bruce was a High Yield Bond Analyst at Putnam Investments and at Eaton Vance. Before working at Eaton Vance, he worked at John Hancock as a Senior Corporate Bond/High Yield Analyst and at Insurance Service Offices as an Actuarial Analyst. Bruce is a Chartered Financial Analyst and holds a B.A. degree in Mathematics from SUNY Binghamton and an M.B.A. degree from Northeastern University.