

Blythe Masters
Managing Director & Chief Financial Officer
J.P. Morgan Investment Bank

Blythe Masters is Managing Director and Chief Financial Officer of J.P. Morgan Investment Bank. Previously, she was a Managing Director and Head of the firm's Global Credit Portfolio and Credit Policy and Strategy Groups. In that role, her responsibilities included the proactive management of credit and market risks of the bank's retained credit positions arising from lending and derivatives activities, as well as developing credit strategy, policies and limits to measure and control credit risk and coordinate the financial and risk reporting of the firm's credit activities. Masters served as 2003 Chair of the Corporate Credit Markets Division and is Co-Chair of the International Swaps and Derivatives Association's Credit Derivatives Market Practices Committee. She received a B.A. in economics, with honors, from Trinity College in Cambridge, England.
